

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION TRIBAL CONSULTATIONS

Tribal Consultation Session

April 13, 2015

Sitting Bull College
Science and Technology Center
Fort Yates, ND

Time: 9 A.M – 5:00 P.M. MDT

Registration and more information, please go to: www.edtribalconsultations.org

In accordance with the U.S. Department of Education's commitment to engage in regular and meaningful consultation and collaboration with Indian tribes and Indian education stakeholders, the Department plans to conduct a series of consultations in 2015. Tribal consultations work to honor the government-to-government relationship between tribes and the Department of Education by providing tribal leaders and participants an opportunity to engage in dialogue with senior officials from the Department of Education about the critical issues facing American Indian and Alaska Native students. Information gathered from these sessions informs Federal education programs and policies that aim to improve outcomes for all American Indian and Alaska Native students.

Preliminary topics for Consultation include:

- ED's efforts to implement the President's Generation Indigenous Initiative;
- Civil Rights in Tribally Controlled Schools
- Native Student Environment Initiative update
- ED's revised tribal consultation policy
- Native Language Memorandum of Agreement update

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Remarks and comments will be taken from the public from 9:00 A.M. – 11:00 A.M. and 1:00 P.M. – 5:00 P.M. MDT. The time is subject to adjustment. If you would like provide comment, sign-up in advance. The "Public Comment" sign-up sheet is located next to the registration desk. You may also provide written comments, by completing the "Public Comment Card" that was placed in your seat or you visiting www.edtribalconsultations.org.

More information on ED's consultation efforts can be found online at www.edtribalconsultations.org